Passage-1

Thomas Alva Edison invented electric light. He loved to do experiments and to ask funny question . Once he asked his teacher how the kites could fly without wings . The puzzled teacher thought him to be stupid and naughty and turned him out of the school . He was just eight years old when it happened. Edison's best teacher was his mother. She answered his questions, helped and guided him. One day he saw a bird. It ate some worms and flew. Edison prepared a mixture of the pulped worms and made a maid servant drink it to see if she could also fly. He was warned by his mother not to repeat it. Once, he imitated a hen and sat down on her eggs to hatch them. But he only broke the eggs and spoiled his shorts.

Passage-4

One of the greatest mysteries of bird's life is travelling. Every year during autumn and early winter birds travel from northern regions of Asia, Europe and America to the southern warmer lands. They make the return journey again during spring and early summer. They are very punctual unless they are delayed by bad weather. They face many dangers and hardships while travelling long distance through the air over hills, forests, plains and large stretches of water. Sometimes sudden storms arise and drive them far out of course. Often they are blown right out to sea and are drowned in the wild waves. At night bright lights attract and confuse the birds. They cannot fly at their fastest.

Discursive Unseen Passage : 250 Words

Passage-1

Read the following passages carefully and answer the question that follow :

It has become common knowledge that yoga is good for you. Currently yoga is being used as a therapy for cancer, infertility, lung disease, multiple sclerosis, Parkinson's disease, insomnia, high blood pressure, and joint pain. Yet there is very little awareness and understanding on exactly how yoga heals, even in the yoga and medical communities. The key is to understand the relationships between stress, yoga and disease. Medical research estimates that as much as 90 percent of illness and disease is stress related. A few of the many disease and condition that have been linked to an overactive stress response include : cardio-vascular disease, depression, anxiety, some types of diabetes mellitus, etc .What we feel as stress, is the product of the sympathetic nerves system or the "fight or flight" response : an almost instantaneous surge in heart rate, cardiac output , blood pressure, sweating, shallow breathing and metabolism, combined with a tensing of muscles. Internally, the "fight or flight" response shuts down digestion and elimination and reduces blood flow to internal organs. Short term, this stress reaction is a good thing. The "fight or flight" response prepares us to respond shuts down environmental threat by fighting against it or fleeing from it. But long term continuous exposure to stress is harmful, placing excess wear and tear on the body's system and severely limiting the body's natural maintenance and healing abilities. Chronic stress can lead to continuously high levels of cortisol. This hormone at normal levels helps to maintain an active, healthy body(including regulation of metabolism and blood pressure).

- 1.What is good for us today?
 (a) yoga (b) medicines (c) operations (d) disease
- 2.What should we understand between stress, yoga and disease?
 (a) relationship (b) cure (c) medicines (d)procedure
- 3.What percent of illness and disease is stress related?
 (a) 60 percent (b) 70 percent (c) 80 percent (d) 90 percent
- 4.For which disease is yoga being used as a therapy?
- 5.How long term stress harmful?
6. How is normal level of cortisol hormone useful ?
7. How is short term stress good thing ?

8. Find from the passage the word which means 'sleep disorder'.

9. Find from the passage the opposite of 'fertility'.

Passage- 2

Forests are considered the 'green gold' of a country. The very survival of humans and other living beings is dependent on trees and plants which are a major source of oxygen—the vital gas for our respiration. They also act as a 'sink' for the carbon dioxide exhaled by humans and animals and spewed from the chimneys and by the automobiles. Forests play a vital role in sustaining our life. They provide oxygen without which life is not possible on earth. They maintain a healthy gaseous balance in the atmosphere. They are great moderators of climate. Plants increase the humidity of water vapour from their exposed surface by way of transpiration. Forests extensively control soil erosion and landslides. Forests in the hilly areas keep the soil of riverbanks intact with their extensive root system. They also maintain the stability of the mountain slopes. The aerial parts of the plants intercept rain, decreasing its erosion power. Ground flora and the thick layer of litter and humus in the forests act as sponge and help to retain the water received in the form of rain or through the melting of snow, thus preventing floods in the plains. By decreasing the velocity of water coming down the hills, forests help in greater absorption of water by the soil in the plains and thus preventing soil erosion. As the soil retains its moisture, it is released slowly, giving rise to perennial streams and rivulets. The material advantages offered by forests need no mention. Through centuries forests have provided us fuel, fodder and timber wood; our several industries are based on certain resources which are found in the woods.

1. What are considered 'green gold' of a country?

(a) Forests (b) Colours (c) Fields (d) Flages

2. Which gas is vital for our respiration? (a) Carbon dioxide (b) Nitrogen

(c) Oxygen (d) Hydrogen

3. For which gas do the trees and the plants act as a sink?

(a) Nitrogen (b) Oxygen (c) Carbon dioxide (d) Hydrogen

4. How do the trees maintain a healthy gaseous balance in the atmosphere?

5. How do forests control soil erosion?

6. How do forests prevent droughts?

7. Mention two material advantages offered by forests?

8. Find from the passage the word which means 'continuing to live'.

9. Find from the passage the opposite of 'inhaled'.

Answer

1. (a) forests

2. (c) Oxygen

3. (c) Carbon dioxide

4. Trees inhale carbon dioxide and exhale life giving oxygen. Thus they maintain a healthy gaseous balance.

5. Forests in hilly areas keep the soil of riverbanks intact with their extensive root system. They maintain stability of mountain slopes.

6. Forests prevent droughts by helping great absorption of water by the soil in the plains.

7. Two material advantages offered by forests are providence of fuel, fodder and timber, and raw material for industries.

8. Surviving

9. Exhale.

Passage-3

Happiness is not a house that can be built by man's hands, but a song that you hear as you pass the hedge rising suddenly and simply into the night and dying down again. Happiness is optional. It is an inner feeling of contentment and joy. Every man should give a little thought to the duty of being happy. People generally under-rate and neglect this significant duty. 'Nothing too much' is a good maxim of a Greek philosopher. We should control our desires. We should not be a slave to our desires. We should learn to stop while we still wish to continue. We should call off our desires before they are satisfied. 'Nothing too much' should be our guiding principle when we control our desires. Happiness is inside, not outside. It is not in the objects. Everyday a person should think and realise that he is a soul and he is alone. For this sake, he should spare some time and realise that nothing belongs to him for ever. He should smile and try to internalise the effect of his smile. He should try to retain the pleasing effect in the inner recesses of his heart and in the ideas of his mind. Health is also related to happiness. Walking, light physical exercises and light food free from harmful components are as useful for health as hobbies and company of good friends. Company of nature and company of good books create a basis of happy living. Happiness rooted in activity with devotion is an inner feeling of satisfaction or contentment for those who are not enslaved by desires. We can happy only when we exist in relation to the social environment with a positive attitude.

1. What is optical ?

(a) Happiness (b) Sadness (c) Calmness (d) Peaceness

2. What should be control ?

(a) Needs (b) Desires (c) Demands (d) Feelings

3. Where is happiness?

(a) Outside (b) Inside (c) Mid-side (d) Upside

4. What, according to the author, is happiness?

5. Which maxim did a Greek philosopher follow?

6. What should a person think and realise everyday?

7. What things create a basis of happy living?

8. Locate from the passage the word which means 'satisfaction'.

9. Find from the passage the opposite of 'negative'.

Answer

1. (a) Happiness

2. (b) Desires

3. (b) Inside

4. According to the author happiness is an inner feeling of contentment and joy.

5. A Greek philosopher followed the maxim 'nothing too much'.

6. everyday a person should think and realise that he is soul and he is alone.

7. Company of nature and of good books create a basis of happy living.

8. Contentment

9. Positive

Passage-4

Very few persons know how to read. Considerable experience with literature is needed before taste and discrimination can possibly be acquired; and, without these, it is almost impossible to learn how to read. I say, almost impossible; since there are some rare men who, through a kind of inherited literary instinct are able to read very well even before reaching the age of twenty-five years. But these are great exceptions, and I am speaking of the average; for to read the characters of the letters of the text does not mean reading in the true sense. You will often find yourselves reading words or characters automatically, even pronouncing them quite correctly, while your minds are occupied with a totally different subject. This mechanism of reading becomes altogether automatic at an early period of life, and can be performed irrespective of attention. Neither can I call it reading to extract the narrative portion of a text from the rest simply one's personal amusement, or in other words, to read a book "for the story". Yet most of the reading that is done in the world is done in exactly this way. Thousands and thousands of books are bought every year, every month, I might even say every day, by people who do not read at all. They only think that they read. They buy books just to amuse themselves, "to kill time" as they call it; in one hour or two their eyes have passed over all the pages, and there is left in their minds a vague idea or two about what they have been looking at; and this they really believe is reading. Nothing is more common than to be asked, "have you read such a book?" or to hear somebody say, "I have read such and such a book."

1. Who, according to author, know how to read?

(a) All the person (b) No persons (c) Very few persons (d) Some persons

2. About which readers is the author speaking ?

(a) Average readers (b) Exceptional readers (c) Habitual readers (d) Professional readers

3. About whom is this passage?

(a) Speakers (b) Readers (c) Writers (d) Publishers

4. What is needed before taste and discrimination can possibly be acquired?

5. What is the mechanism of reading at an early period of life?

6. How is most of the reading done?

7. Which type of readers is the author speaking about?

8. Find from the passage the word which means 'entertainment'.

9. Find from the passage the opposite of 'after'.

Answer

1. (c) Very few persons

2. (a) Average readers

3. (b) Readers

4. Considerable experience with literature is needed for that.

5. At an early period of life the mechanism of reading is this that you will find yourself reading words while your attention is occupied with a totally different subject.

6. Most of the reading is done in this way—to read a book 'for the story' just to get a vague idea.

7. The author is speaking about the average reader, not the exceptional reader.

8. Amusement

9. Before

Passage-5

We want purity—pure food, pure water, pure air. We long for pure surroundings. We yearn for pure heart and pure love. We prefer pure environment and pure society. We are fond of purity because purity promotes health. Impurities are injurious to health. Purity provides peace of mind. Impurities impair the mind. Both for bodily health and mental health, we need purity. We do require environmental purity for overall health.

Purity of body is physical health. Purity of speech is unsullied truth. Purity of heart is unselfish love. Purity of thought is righteous reason. Purity of mind is wholesome peace. Purity of action is sincere and unselfish service. Purity of society is harmonious unity. Purity of environment is soul-elevating serenity.

In the Mahabharata, there is an interesting episode to illustrate the nature of purity. The Pandavas and Kauravas were Drona's disciples. They were once summoned by the preceptor Drona for a test. The eldest of the Pandavas, Yudhishtira was asked to bring one bad person from the society. The eldest of the Kauravas, Duryodhana, was asked to fetch one good person from the same society in Hastinapur. After a tough search both the cousins returned empty-handed. The pure minded Yudhishtira found everyone to be pious and pure. The impure mind of Duryodhana found everyone to be evil and impure. As is the mind, so is the vision.

Purity of mind makes our vision, words and deeds pure. It has also the power to purify people. Evil has no place in the presence of purity. Nor can it face purity, as darkness cannot face the sun. It only gets changed into purity.

1. Why are we fond of purity?

- (a) because it promotes health (b) because it weakens health
(c) because it strengthens weakness (d) because it promotes ill-health

2. What provides peace of mind?

- (a) impurity (b) purity (c) environment (d) city

3. What does purity of body give?

- (a) psychological health (b) mental health (c)
physical health (d) None of the above

4. What is the purity of speech and heart?

5. Who was Drona?

6. What is the purity of thought, mind and action?

7. How is the saying 'as is the mind, so is the vision' true on Duryodhana?

8. Find from the passage the word which means 'have an intense longing for something'?

9. Find from the passage the opposite of 'absence'.

Answer

1. (a) because it promotes health

2. (b) purity

3. (c) physical health

4. The purity of speech is unsullied truth. The purity of heart is unselfish love.

5. Drona was the 'guru' of the Pandavas and the Kauravas princess.

6. The purity of thought is righteous reason. The purity of mind is wholesome peace and the purity of action is sincere and unselfish service.

7. It is so because Duryodhana was bad by mind so didn't find a single good person in his kingdom.

8. Yearning.

9. Presence.

Passage 6

After water, tea is the most popular beverage in the world. Its popularity has survived thousands of years and has played an important role in many cultures. It is enjoyed both hot and cold, as a refreshing drink, as part of a ceremony, or as a tonic for improved health. The drink of Asia for hundreds of years, tea is believed to have been brought to Europe by the Dutch. Today, from remote Ladakh in India to Buckingham Palace in London, tea is synonymous with cheer. It is rightly said that there will be no agreement on a perfect cup of tea. Though for tea drinkers the brew is addictive, the preferred method of preparation and taste differ from person to person and region to region. From traditional black teas, to the newer, and extraordinarily healthy white teas, and recognisable flavoured teas such as Earl Grey, to exotic blends such as Rooibos Love, there is a flavour and a blend for everyone. Today many varieties of tea and tea brands are available in the market. An innovation is the tea-bag that is easy, quick and less messy than traditional ways of brewing tea. Green tea is popular in China and the Far East.3. In Japan, the tea ceremony is a traditional way of greeting guests and is a social occasion. Unlike the tea we are familiar with, green tea is not drunk with sugar or milk. It is an olive-coloured liquid served in porcelain cups. In Morocco, green tea is infused with freshly plucked mint.

Questions:

1. Who brought tea to Europe?
(a) Greece (b) Dutch (c) Portuguese (d) China
2. Where is 'Green tea' popular?
(a) China (b) India (c) Europe (d) France

Passage 7

One of the greatest advances in modern technology has been the invention of computers. They are widely used in industries and in universities. Now there is hardly any sphere of human life where computers have not been pressed into service of man. We are heading fast towards the day when a computer will be as much part of man's daily life as a telephone – or a calculator.

Computers are capable of doing extremely complicated work in all branches of learning. They can solve the most complex mathematical problems or put thousands of unrelated facts in order. These machines can be put to varied uses. For instance, they can provide information on the best way to prevent traffic jams. This whole process by which machines can be used to work for us has been called 'automation.' In the future automation may enable human beings to enjoy more leisure than they do today. The coming of automation is bound to have important social consequences.

Some years ago an expert on automation, Sir Leon Bagrit, pointed out that it was a mistake to believe that these machines could 'think.' There is no possibility that human beings will be "controlled by machines." Though computers are capable of learning from their mistakes and improving on their performance, they need detailed instructions from human beings to operate. They can never, as it were, lead independent lives or "rule the world" by making decisions of their own.

Questions:

1. What is the greatest advancement in modern technology?
(a) Computer (b) Telephone (c) Calculator (d) Water heater
2. The process by which machines can be used to work for us called.....
(a) Automation (b) Calculation (c) Invention (d) Animation

3. What is the opposite word of 'ancient' from the passage?
4. Answer the following questions briefly
 - A. What is the greatest advancement in modern technology?
 - B. What complicated works are computers capable of doing?
 - C. What is the opposite word of 'ancient' from the passage?
 - D. What is automation?
 - E. Why can't computers lead independent lives or rule the world?
 - F. What did Sir Leon point about computers?

Answers:

1. (a) Computer 2. (a) Automation 3. Modern
4. Answers
 - A. The greatest advancement in modern technology is the invention of computers.
 - B. Computers are capable of solving mathematical problems and put thousands of unrelated facts in order.
 - C. Modern
 - D. Automation is the process by which machines can be used to work for us. E. Computers need detailed instructions from human beings to operate/ cannot make decisions of their own. Therefore computers cannot lead independent lives or rule the world.
 - F. Sir Leon pointed that it was a mistake to believe that computers could think.

Passage 9

Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi was born to a Hindu family on October 2, 1869, in India. He was a lawyer, politician, social activist and writer who became the leader of the nationalist movement against the British rule of India. Today he is best known for being a symbol of peace, humility and willful poverty.

At thirteen Gandhi was married to a girl who was the same age as he. He travelled to London in 1888 to study law and graduated in 1891. After attempting but failing to practice law in Bombay, India, Gandhi accepted a job offer in South Africa. He spent more than two decades there. This is also where he found his true passion for advocating civil rights.

In South Africa, where the Indian population mainly worked as poor labourers, Gandhi experienced the oppression and racism in this country at first hand. ACTIVE PASSIVE

Active से Passive में बदलने के सामान्य नियम

- Active sentence के Object को Passive sentence का Subject बना देते हैं।
- Be verb (is/am/are/was/were/being/been) को Tense के अनुसार प्रयोग कर 3rd form of Main verb का प्रयोग किया जाता है।
- In the end use By agent (by के साथ Subject को Object में बदलकर प्रयोग किया जाता है।)
- ❖ Points to be remembered
- While transforming into passive voice type of sentence should not be changed.
- Type of tense should not be changed.

Pronoun को बदलना:-

Active voice	Passive voice
I	Me
We	Us
You	You
He	Him
She	Her
They	Them

Note:- According to the chart Subject into Object and Object into Subject is changed vice versa (उपरोक्त चार्ट के अनुसार कर्ता को कर्म एवं कर्म को कर्ता में बदला जाता है।)

Active से Passive बनाने समय verb निम्नानुसार बदलती है:-

V ₁ + s /es	is,am,are+V ₃
Do not, Does not + V ₁	is,am,are+not+V ₃
V ₂	was,were+V ₃
did not + V ₁	was,were+not+V ₃
is,am,are+V ₁ +ing	is,am,are+being+V ₃
was,were+V ₁ +ing	was,were+being+V ₃
has,have,had+V ₃	has been, have been, had been+V ₃

will, shall ,can, could, may, might, must	will, shall ,can, could, may, might, must+be+V3 will have/ shall have	will have been/ shall have been

Unimportant Subject- यदि Active voice में कोई ऐसा subject हो जिसका महत्व नहीं हो तो passive voice बनाते समय उसे छोड़ देते हैं। प्रमुख unimportant subject निम्नलिखित हैं—They, We, People, All of them, indefinite Pronouns जैसे someone, somebody, everyone, everybody, one, no one nobody etc.

Eg. People speak English all over the world.

English is spoken all over the world.

Somebody has stolen my purse.

First Flight [Poetry]

1. Dust of snow

*The way a crow
Shook down on me
The dust of snow
From a hemlock tree*

- Reference :- These lines have been taken from the poem "Fire and Ice" from our book First Flight. Composed by Rbert Frost
- Context:- In these lines the poet tells a very simple but very important incident that took place with him.
- Explanation:- In this stanza the poet explains that he was sitting under a hemlock tree where he was thinking something then a crow sat on a poisonus tree named hemlock and showered some snow particles which wakes him up. Both the crow and hemlock tree are symbol of sadness of the poet. And falling of snow which gives him natural joy.

- Critical Note:- Language of the poem is simple but it has deep meaning. Falling of snow gives him some joy to do work which he was wasting. The poet has used crow and hemlock tree for symbol which shows that the poet is in sad mood.

Has given my heart
A change of mood
And save some part
Of a day I had rued

- Reference :- These lines have been taken from the poem “Dust of snow” from our book First Flight. Composed by Robert Frost
- Context:- The poet says that the small incident of falling of snow particles changes his mood and it saves his time. The poet tells that how a simple incident proves to be very important.
- Explanation:- In this stanza the poet explains that as soon as the snow particle fall upon him that changes his mood before it he was wasting his energy and time. He was sitting idle. But falling of snow changes his mood and motivates him to work. Thus the day which he had lost doing nothing now some part of it was saved so he is happy now.
- Critical Note:- This is a symbolic poem. Language of the poem is simple but it has deep meaning. Falling of snow gives him some joy to do work which he was wasting. The poet has used crow and hemlock tree symbolically which shows that the poet is in sad mood.

Short Answer Type Questions [2 Marks each]

Q. 1. How did the crow change the poet’s mood?

Ans. The poet was going somewhere in a snowy morning. He was upset. All the trees were covered with snow dust. A crow sitting on a hemlock tree shook the tree in such a way that some dust of snow fell on the poet. This changed his mood and he became happy and relaxed.

Q. 2 How does the poet react to crow and hemlock tree?

Ans. Crow and hemlock tree are considered inauspicious in the west. They are generally taken bad omen. But the poet did not take them in negative way. They saved his day. His negative outlook changed to the positive one.

Q.3 How has the poet observed nature in the poem, ‘Dust of Snow’?

Ans. The poet has observed nature as a positive medium of change for him. The poet had been in the sorrowful and depressive mood in the poem. But then the way a crow shook snow dust off, it changed his mood. Nature gave him the inspiration to behave in a positive manner.

Q.4 What side of nature do ‘crow’ and ‘hemlock’ represent?

Answer: ‘Crow’ is a black, harsh-voiced bird and ‘hemlock’ is a tree with poisonous bitter fruit. Both are not beautiful. They represent the dark, depressive, sorrowful and bitter side of nature.

Poem 2 Fire and Ice

Some say world will end in fire
Some say the world will end in ice
From what I have tasted of desire
I hold with those who favor fire

Reference :- These lines have been taken from the poem “Fire and Ice” from our book First Flight. Composed by Robert Frost

Context: In these lines the poet says that the world will end in fire or ice. And he expresses his own desire the world to be destroyed. The theme of the poem is the destructiveness of love and hate.

Explanation:- In the first two lines of this poem 'Some say the... in ice', the poet says that some people say that the world will end in fire, while some others say that it will end in ice. So, here he considers the age-old question of whether the world will end in fire or in ice. This is like another age-old question: whether it would be preferable to freeze to death or burn to death. In the next two lines that is, 'From what I have..... who favor fire' he says that, from what he has known of desire, he agrees with those who hold the opinion that the world is to be consumed by Fire, that is the fire of desire.

Critical Note:- Fire and ice in the poem do not refer to actual fire and ice. The poet has used figure of speech like Alliteration : "fire,favour" and "world will". The poet has personified Fire and Ice which are capable of distruction.

But it had to perish twice,
I think I know enough of hate
To say that for destruction ice
Is also great
And would suffice.

Reference :- These lines have been taken from the poem "Fire and Ice" from our book First Flight. Composed by Robert Frost

Context: In these lines the poet says that the world will end in fire or ice. He presents his views in these lines.

Explanation:- In the lines poet has used satire because the world cannot end twice for if it is gone, it is gone here ice is compared to hatred. He says that he has left enough hatred in his life. He tells us that this form of distruction is also a great way to cause end to the world. He tells us that no matter which course we take, the last result will be same. He says that once the world ends with fire (desire) it will be destroyed by hate too the next time.

Critical Note:- Fire and ice in the poem do not refer to actual fire and ice. The poet has used figure of speech like Alliteration : "fire,favour" and "world will". The poet has personified Fire and Ice which are capable of distruction.

Short Answer Type Questions [2 Marks each]

Q.1. What is two different views about the end of the world in the poem 'Fire and Ice'? Ans. The two different views of people regarding the end of the world are—Fire and Ice Fire stands for desire and ice stands for hatred.

Q.2 What does the poet think about the end of the world?

Ans. The poet thinks about the end of the world that people think fire is the main cause of destruction. But by the end of the poem he says that both Fire and Ice are equally destructive. Both have the same power of causing destruction

Q.3 What is the central idea of the poem "Fire and Ice"?

Ans. The poem tells us about the unending desires and the endless hatred. These are there in the heart and mind of the man. Desire is like fire and hate is like ice.

Q.4 What type of life does a man lead according to the poem?

Ans. A man should lead a life where hate and desire has no place. These are the root cause of evils so a satisfied life is the only solution.

A Tiger in the Zoo
He should be snarling around houses
At the jungle's edge,
Baring his white fangs, his claws,
Terrorising the village!

Reference - These lines have been taken from the poem "A tiger in the Zoo". From our book First Flight. This poem is composed by Leslie Norris.

Context:- In these lines the poet tells us about the tiger in the jungle. The poet is describing the activities of the tiger that lives in a jungle.

Explanation: The poet then gives another suggestion that the tiger should be sitting at the jungle's edge in close vicinity of a village. He should be terrorising the people passing that way by its sharp teeth, baring its claws and producing low sound of anger.

Critical Note:- The poet in this poem compares a tiger in a zoo and a tiger in a jungle. In this stanza he uses personification "Terrorising the village."

*He stalks in his vivid stripes
The few steps of his cage,
On pads of velvet quiet,
In his quiet rage.*

Reference - These lines have been taken from the poem "A tiger in the Zoo". From our book First Flight. This poem is composed by Leslie Norris.

Context:- In this stanza the poet tells us about the tiger in the zoo who walks in its cage and he presents the mental condition of the tiger in a zoo.

Explanation: The tiger in the zoo walks in the limited space provided to it in the cage. It takes a few steps. There are stripes on its body which are quite prominent. Its paws are soft like velvet. No noise is produced when it walks on its pad of velvet. The tiger is silent but in anger.

Critical Note:- The poet in this poem compares a tiger in the zoo and a tiger in the jungle. In this stanza the poet uses Oxymoron "quiet rage."

Short Answer Type Questions [2 Marks each]

Q.1. How does the tiger feel in the zoo?

Ans. The feeling of the tiger in the zoo, he keeps on moving from one corner to another. "He stalks in his vivid stripes moving the few steps of his cage". He is not happy. He expresses his silent anger.

Q.2. What would the tiger do in a forest?

Ans. In the forest, the tiger can enjoy complete freedom. He would walk around freely without any fear. He would terrorize the villagers by growling. He would show his teeth and claws.

Q.3. What does the poet want to convey through this poem?

Ans. The poet wants to convey that like human beings, animals also like freedom. They do not want to be caged; they cannot live a miserable life.

Q.4. What is the tiger thinking while looking at the stars?

Ans. The tiger thinks about his day of freedom. How freely he spent those days. He also laments over his present condition.

Q.5. What message does the poet want to give in the line "His strength behind the bars"? Ans. The poet wants to tell that the natural power and freedom, of the tiger is put behind the bars. He wants to tell us about freedom of tiger.

4. How to tell wild animals

*If ever you should go by chance
To jungles in the east;
And if there should to you advance
A large and tawny beast,
If he roars at you as you're dyin'
You'll know it is the Asian Lion...*

Reference - These lines have been taken from the poem "How to tell wild animal". From our book First Flight. This poem is composed by Carolyn Wells

Context:- In this stanza the poet tells us a humorous way to identify an Asian lion.

Explanation : The poet here says if by chance you happen to go to any forest in the east, you are likely to encounter a huge and terrible animal moving towards you. You will notice that a large beast roars loudly at you and you feel that you are going to die due to fear, then you will come to know that it is the Asian Lion.

*Or if some time when roaming round,
A noble wild beast greets you,
With black stripes on a yellow ground,
Just notice if he eats you.
This simple rule may help you learn
The Bengal Tiger to discern.*

Reference - These lines have been taken from the poem "How to tell wild animal". From our book First Flight. This poem is composed by Carolyn Wells

Context:- In this stanza the poet tells us a humorous way to identify a Bengal Tiger.

Explanation : The poet says that it is very likely that while roaming in the forest, you are greeted by a wild beast. His majestic body is covered with black stripes on a yellow hide. The poet cautions if you notice this beast and if he eats you, then this simple rule will teach you that it is a 'Bengal Tiger'.

Short Answer Type Questions [2 Marks each]

Q.1 How can you identify the Asian lion and the Bengal Tiger?

Ans. The Asian Lion has a large body and a brownish-yellow coat. It roars loudly when it attacks its prey. On the other hand, the Bengal Tiger has black stripes on its yellow coat. It silently attacks its prey.

Q.2 Write the sum and substance of the poem, "How to Tell Wild Animals".
Ans. The poet, Carolyn Wells, in the poem suggests some of the dangerous ways to identify the wild animals. The poem is full of humorous examples when the poet tries to distinguish one animal from the other. Moreover, the poem educates us by describing the various features of wild animals.

Q.3 How can you distinguish between a tiger and a leopard?

Ans. A tiger has black stripes on its yellow coat. A leopard on the other hand, does not have any stripes. It has spots peppered on its body. Moreover, a tiger kills only when it is hungry, while a leopard can kill for the pleasure of killing by pouncing continuously on its prey.

Q.4 How can you distinguish between a hyena and a crocodile?

Ans. A hyena laughs as it swallows its victim, whereas a crocodile weeps as it swallows its victim.

Q.5 What does the Bengal Tiger look like? What is so distinct about him?

Ans. The Bengal Tiger roams freely in the forest. It is noble and majestic in stature. It wears black stripes on a yellow hide. When it notices someone it tries to eat him. The Bengal tiger attacks its prey very silently and grasps it with his terrifying teeth.

Q.6 How does the poet describe the bear?

Ans. The poet describes the bear in a humorous way. He says that as soon as a bear sees a human being, it hugs him tightly. It clasps its prey tightly with both its hands and squeezes him to death. If he is still alive, he gives him another tight hug to kill him.

Q.7 What is so weird about the Hyena and the crocodile?

Ans. Some animals such as the hyena and the crocodile are famous for their weird behaviour. For example, a laughing hyena's voice resembles human's laughing sound. Moreover, a hyena laughs while swallowing its prey, while a crocodile shed tears.

5. The Ball Poem

Explain the following lines with reference to context:

What is the boy now, who has lost his ball,

What, what is he to do? I saw it go

Merrily bouncing, down the street, and then

Merrily over — there it is in the water!

Reference: These lines have been taken from the poem "The Ball Poem" composed by John Berryman.

Context: In this poem the poet describes the grief of a young boy over the loss of his ball.

Explanation: The poem starts with the poet's question, which he asks himself. He talks about a boy who has lost his ball and asks what he will do after losing it. The boy was very happy and cheerful when the ball was with him. The poet further says that the boy must have lost his ball while playing with it by throwing it up and down. At that moment, the ball must have slipped from the boy's hand and into the street. From there, it fell into the nearby river and went into the water.

Extract- 1:

I would not intrude on him;

A dime, another ball, is worthless. Now

He senses first responsibility

In a world of possessions. People will take

Balls, Balls will be lost always, little boy.

And no one buys a ball back. Money is external.

Q.I. What does the child sense as responsibility?

Ans. The boy senses his responsibility that loss is an integral part of one's life. Worldly things come and go. He learns how to lose things.

Q.II. Why is money external and the ball is internal?

Ans. The boy has played with the ball and develops an attachment with it. So ball is internal and with money new ball can be bought but he cannot buy attachment.

Answer the following questions in about 20 words.

Q.1. What has happened to the boy in the poet's opinion?

Ans. The poet said that a boy lost his ball when he was playing. Poet also asked what the boy would do.

Q.2. What does the poet suggest the boy about the ball?

Ans. The poet suggests the boy about the ball that he should feel sad as there are many other balls in this world.

Q.3. What was the boy learning, according to the poem?

Ans. The boy was learning how to bear the loss. Everyone has to lose one and the other thing someday. It is the nature.

Q.4. "Money is external". What does the poet mean?

Ans. Money does not have any value for emotions. One can buy new things with money. One cannot buy memories because money is external.

Q.5. What is the message of the poem, “The Ball Poem”?

Ans. Loss of external things happen in life repeatedly. If we learn the art of bearing the loss, we can live peacefully.

6. Amanda

Explain the following lines with reference to context:

(There is a languid, emerald sea, where the sole inhabitant is me—
a mermaid, drifting blissfully.)

Did you finish your homework, Amanda?

Did you tidy your room, Amanda?

I thought I told you to clean your shoes,

Amanda!

Reference: These are the opening lines of Robin Klein’s poem “Amanda”.

Context: In these lines the poet describes about Amanda’s conditions and her parents behavior.

Explanation: Amanda starts getting frustrated by her mother and starts imagining herself to be in a deep green sea. She imagines how blissful her life would be if she would be a sea god having a fish tail instead of legs. Then, she would have enjoyed the sea waves and moved along with the waves up and down in the water. Amanda’s mother is inquiring whether she has completed her homework or not. Then she asks her whether she has cleaned her room or not. She is also reminding her to clean her shoes.

Q. I. Why does Amanda’s mother instruct the child?

Ans. Amanda’s mother instructs the child so that she can stop ill behaving. She wants to develop good habits in the child for her gentleness.

Q. II. What instructions are given to Amanda in these lines?

Ans. Amanda’s mother instructs the child not to bite nails, hunch shoulders and stop slouching. She should be alert and be happy every time.

Q.I. How is the life of a mermaid in the sea?

Ans. Mermaid lives in a peaceful, emerald sea all alone. She enjoys complete freedom and drifts blissfully in its placid waters.

Q. II. On the basis of these lines write in your own words why does Amanda think of mermaid?

Ans. Amanda thinks about the mermaid because she also wants to live in the way of mermaid. She does not want any disturbance and instructions from parents.

Answer the following questions in about 20 words.

Q.1. Why does Amanda want to be a mermaid?

Ans. She wants to be a mermaid because she drifts blissfully in emerald sea, enjoys complete freedom and peace of the sea.

Q.2. How does Amanda behave in the poem?

Ans. Amanda behaves sulkily and moodily in the poem. She does not pay attention to what her mother says. She wants to be an orphan, mermaid or Rapunzel.

Q.3. What is the theme of the poem, "Amanda"?

Ans. The theme of this poem is to find faults of children and nagging of parents at their children. What impact all these have on them.

Q 4. Write a short note on the title of the poem?

Ans. The title of the poem is Amanda as it revolves around the upbringing of little girl named Amanda. Her life is full of struggles where she is denied freedom and expression. Amanda is so much irritated that she escapes reality by living in her imaginative world. Through this gateway she experiences calmness, away from her nagging parents.

Q. 5 Why does Amanda seem moody most of the times?

Ans. Amanda seems moody most of the times because she is lost in an imaginary world. Her mother is always scolding her and telling her what should and should not do. So Amanda escapes into her own world she imagines herself as an orphan, a mermaid or a Rapunzel.

Q.6 Do you consider Amanda's mother to be a nagging mother?

Ans. Amanda's mother is indeed a nagging mother. She is all about instructions and finding faults. No doubt it is her responsibility to instil good values into her daughter, but not at the cost of her child's happiness. One should know how to strike a balance between maintaining responsibilities and taking good care.

Q.7 Is Amanda at fault at all?

Ans. Amanda is not at fault at all. It is too harsh for a small child to understand the concept of not eating a chocolate. Love of parents is missing from Amanda's life. It is with pity that we look towards Amanda. There is nothing worst for a child who wishes to be an orphan. Amanda just seeks freedom from the overpowering environment around her.

7. Animals

Explain the following lines with reference to context:

I think I could turn and live with animals, they are so placid and self-contain'd,

I stand and look at them long and long.

Reference: These lines have been taken from the poem “Animals” written by Walt Whitman.

Context: In the poem ‘Animals’ poet Walt Whitman wishes to convey that animals are free from all types of trivial anxieties.

Explanation: The poet says that he is desirous of living with animals as they are calm and self-contained. He appreciates the numerous qualities of animals. The self-contained nature of animals explains that they are happy in their own lives and do not interfere in others’ lives. They are satisfied with what they have and do not have the greed to earn more than others. Moreover, animals’ calm nature shows that they do not run after materialistic things like humans. They are at peace in all situations. The ups and downs in their life do not bother them. They know how to deal with such situations.

Answer the following questions in about 20 words.

Q.1 Why does the poet like animals?

Ans. The poet likes animals for their self-contained and quiet nature. The fact that animals are not like human beings and satisfied with their lives appeals to the poet a lot.

Q.2 Why do animals not weep for their sins?

Ans. Animals do not weep for their sins because they do not need to do so. They are innocent creatures that commit no sins. It is humans, who weep yet commit sins.

Q.3 Differentiate between humans and animals in terms of desire.

Ans. Animals are very different from humans as they have no desire to own things. They are happy without an unending greed while humans become maniacs in their greed for possessing valuables.

Q. 4 What does the poet mean by, “Not one is respectable or unhappy over the whole earth”?

Ans. The poet means that animals do not pray to God or to ancestors and all of them are equal, hence no one is more respectable than the other. The good values of animals and the lack of social conventions make them happy.

Q.5 What is the theme of this poem ‘Animals’?

Ans. Poet wants to tell human beings that they must remove the discrimination, weaknesses by learning from animals. They remain calm, self contained ,sinless and indiscriminate.

Q. 6. What are the “tokens” referred here in these lines?

Ans. The “tokens” referred here are the traits of character like love, cheerfulness and contentment. The animals have all these in abundance.

Q. 7. What do the animals show to the poem?

Ans. The Animals have shown the poet their relations of love, equality and fraternity. They have life of satisfaction and without complaint to show to the poet.

Q.8. Why does the poet think to live with animals?

Ans. Humans are complicated and false. Poet feels good with animals. They are sin less, sound sleeper, uncomplaining and placid. So he thinks to live with them.

Q.9. What message do we get from the poem, 'Animals'?

Ans. The message from this poem is to remove human weaknesses that they have, they leave vices and adopt virtues from animals.

8. The Trees

Explain the following lines with reference to context:

All night the roots work
to disengage themselves from the cracks in the veranda floor.
The leaves strain toward the glass small twigs stiff with exertion long-cramped boughs shuffling under the roof like newly discharged patients half-dazed, moving to the clinic doors.

Reference: These lines have been taken from the poem "The Trees" written by Adrienne Rich.

Context: Here, the poetess has compared the branches with the newly discharged patients, who move towards the door of the clinic and are still halfdazed.

Explanation: Here the poetess explains the effort put by trees to free themselves from the boundaries of humans' houses. The poetess says that the roots of the trees work all night to separate themselves from the cracks of the veranda floor. The leaves of the tree try to put pressure on the glass so that they can break the glass ceiling. The small stems of the tree have become hard due to the continuous effort to free themselves. The long branches of the tree have shrunk because of the less space available for them to expand under the roof. Trees move slowly from home and look like newly discharged patients from the hospital. They are a little confused while moving to the clinic door as they are not able to believe that they are coming back to their actual home in the forest.

Q. I. What are the noises that poet listens at night?

Ans. The poet listens to the noise of glass breaking, stumbling of trees towards out of doors and rushing of winds in the silent night.

Q. II. Why is all this noise being made?

Ans. All this noise is being made by the leaves, twigs and the tree because they all are trying to set them free from the long exertion in the house.

Answer the following questions in about 20 words.

Q.1. How are the birds, insects and sun affected by the absence of the trees?

Ans. Birds have no place to sit. Insects cannot find any place to hide and there is no shadow in the forest by sunlight.

Q.2. What is the central idea of the poem “The Trees”?

Ans. The poem tells us about the conflict between man and nature. Man has brought trees to decorate their houses, trees inside.

Q 3: Where are the trees at present? What do their roots, and leaves do?

Answer: At present, the trees are in the house. The roots try to free themselves from the cracks of the veranda floor, and the leaves make efforts to move towards the glass, perhaps in search of light. The small branches become stiff as they try to pull themselves towards the light.

Q 4: What is the central idea of the poem, ‘The Trees’?

Answer: The central idea of the poem is the conflict between man and nature. A plant is brought inside the house when it is a sapling. But as it grows into a tree, it gets suffocated with the limited space available. So it departs to feel free. The tree is thus, moving out to occupy the now empty forest, made so by man’s indiscriminate felling of trees. Humans must understand the negative impact of their actions on nature and mend their ways before it is too late.

Q 5: Why is the description of the moon different in the beginning and at the end of the third stanza?

Answer: At the beginning of the third stanza, the poet says that one can see the whole moon shining in the open sky, but in the end, the moon seems to be broken like a mirror and its pieces shine in the crown of the tallest oak tree. The change is caused by the shifting of the trees outside.

Q 6: Why are the trees described in the first stanza not useful for birds or insects? Answer: The trees described in the first stanza are either decorative plants kept inside a house, or they are shown only in a painting or picture. Therefore, they are not useful for birds or insects. Birds cannot sit on their branches. Insects cannot hide in them.

9 Poem -: Fog

Explain the following lines with reference to context:

The fog comes on little cat feet. It sits looking over harbour and city on silent haunches

and then moves on.

Reference: These lines have been taken from the poem “Fog” composed by Carl Sandburg.

Context: In this stanza the poet describe the falling of fog on a cat but here Fog is described as a Cat.

Explanation: The poet is describing the arrival of fog. He says that the fog comes like little cat feet. Here, the fog has been compared with a little cat. As a cat walks silently on its small feet and no one can know about its arrival, in a similar way, the fog also sets in. The fog enters the city very slowly and calmly in such a way that no one can predict its arrival. Then the poet says, the thick cloud of the fog covers the entire city in a similar way as the cat sits silently by folding her legs behind itself. The fog engulfs the harbour and the whole city silently and looks around the places, the way a cat does. After some time the fog leaves the city and moves on. Here, the poet wants to convey that the fog does not stay for a longer time duration in a particular place. It disappears after some interval, just like a cat without being noticed by anyone.

Write answer of these Questions--

Q 1. How does the poet compare the fog with cat?

Ans. The poet uses the metaphor of cat for 'fog'. Both have similar quality of coming silently and quietly, sitting on their haunches and looking around. Then move away as quietly as they had come.

Q.2. How does a cat come and go? Compare it with fog with the help of these lines.

Ans. A cat comes and goes silently. Fog also covers harbor and city silently and then disappears in the same manner.

Q.3. What do you understand by appearing and disappearing of fog?

Ans. Appearing and disappearing of fog indicates that we can pursue the target silently and then attain it with a view to success.

Answer the following questions in about 20 words.

Q.4. What are the similarity poet has drawn in the poem “Fog”?

Ans. Poet compares fog with a cat. Fog comes silently resting on its haunches as a cat and disappears in the same manner as a cat does.

Q.5. What effect does a fog make on city and its people?

Ans. Fog affects the life of city people. It disturbs and disrupts their schedule. Fog covers the harbor and city and then disappears.

10. The Tale of Custard the Dragon

Explain the following lines with reference to context:

Now the name of the little black kitten was Ink,
And the little grey mouse, she called him Blink,
And the little yellow dog was sharp as Mustard,
But the dragon was a coward, and she called him Custard.

Reference: These lines have been taken from the poem "The Tale of Custard the Dragon" written by Ogden Nash.

Context: The tale of Custard the Dragon is a funny poem that tells the story of a little girl Belinda and her pets.

Explanation: In this stanza, the poet tells the name of the pets who were in Belinda's home. He says that Belinda has named the little black kitten as Ink and the little grey mouse as Blink. The little dog was sharp and was yellow in colour as Mustard, so she named him Mustard. She named the dragon Custard, which symbolizes that he was a coward animal and not brave enough, as the other creatures of the home.

Suddenly, suddenly they heard a nasty sound,
And Mustard growled and they all looked around
Meowch! Cried Ink and ooh! cried Belinda,
For or there was a pirate, climbing in the window

Reference --- These lines have been taken from the poem 'The tale of Custard the Dragon' written by 'Ogden Nash'.

Context ---- The poet presents contrast in human behaviour in favourable and unfavourable situations.

Explanation--- All of a sudden, they all hear an unpleasant sound. They all look around. They see a pirate (sea-dacout) climbing in the window. Mustard growls. Ink cries mew. Belinda cries 'ooh' with fear.

Belinda still lives in her Little white house, with her Little black kitten and her little grey mouse, and her little yellow dog and her little red wagon and her realio, trulio little pet dragon.

Reference --- These lines have been taken from the poem 'The tell of custard the dragon' written by 'Ogden Nash'.

Context ---- Belinda is still in her house and with her animal friends.

Explanations---- Belinda is still living in her small house of white colour with her fair weather friends -small black kitten, small grey mouse and small yellow dog even after the pirate incident. She has her real and true pet dragon and she still has her small red wagon for fun.

11. For Anne Gregory

Explain the following lines with reference to context:

“I heard an old religious man
But yesternight declare
That he had found a text to prove
That only God, my dear,
Could love you for yourself alone
And not your yellow hair.”

Reference: These lines have been taken from the poem “For Anne Gregory” composed by William Butler Yeats.

Context: Here the poet wants to say that the true love is only based on the inner beauty of heart, mind and soul.

Explanation: The poet replies to Anne after listening to her thoughts about love for internal beauty and not external. He says that he had heard an old religious man saying that only God can love us for what we are, and he can prove this by the fact mentioned in a religious book. Humans always look for outer beauty and are carried away by its shine and glitter. They do not have a deep understanding to look into the soul of a person. Only God can do so and love us for our inner qualities.

Q. I. What does the poet tell Gregory?

Ans. The poet tells Gregory that she will be loved because of her outward beauty and not for her internal beauty.

Q. II. What is the possession of that lady?

Ans. The lady has a valuable possession. She has golden colour hair that makes her beautiful and attractive.

Answer the following questions in about 20 words.

Q. 1. What text did the old religious man find about God's love?

Ans. The old religious man found the text in which he found to prove that God loves a human being.

Q. 2. Do you think that Gregory is satisfied to have beautiful golden hair.

Ans. Gregory is unsatisfied with golden hair. She wants to dye them brown, black or carrot. She wants to be loved by the interior.

2. TWO STORIES ABOUT FLYING

ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS

Q1) Describe the first flight of the young seagull?

The young seagull dived at the fish due to hunger and fell outwards and downwards into space. He thought of getting drowned but his wings spread outwards automatically. He moved downwards and outwards and landed safely on the sea and floated on it without any fear.

Q2) How did seagull's parents try to make him fly?

Seagull's parents tried everything to make him fly. They screamed, scolded and threatened to let him starve on the ledge unless he flew away.

Q3) Describe author's feeling while he was flying his aero plane back to England? The author was very excited while he was flying his aero plane back to England because he wanted to spend his holiday with his family at home.

Q4) How much fuel was there in the aero plane when the writer started flying? There was sufficient fuel in the tanks of the aero plane to reach England safely when the writer started flying.

Q5) Who do you think helped the narrator to reach safely?

The pilot of the black plane asked the narrator to follow him and the writer landed safely.

Q6) Why was the writer shocked after hearing the woman's word?

The writer was shocked after hearing the woman's word because she told him that there was no other aero plane flying that night as she had seen on the radar.

Q7) How did the young seagull get over his fear of sea water and what was his family's reaction on it?

The young seagull had made his maiden flight successfully. He was flying straight over the sea. He observed a vast green sea all around him. He turned his beak sideways and cawed amusedly. His family was very happy and landed ahead of him. They beckoned to him. When he landed on the sea, he began to sink but he tried in despair and his belly touched the water and he sank no further. He was floating on water. This way he got over his fear of seawater and his family praised him a lot and offered him the dog-fish as a reward.

Q8) "Mother is the first teacher". Do you agree with this statement? Explain with reference to the young seagull.

Yes, it is true that mother is the first teacher. It is a well known point for all. A baby takes birth and first of all sees mother's face. It is mother who gives him a new life by feeding him. The mother helps a baby to walk him first step. The mother introduces him to this world, gives him knowledge of relations. She teaches him how to speak. She gives him power and strength to face the difficulties of life. The same thing we find in this story, when no one could encourage the young seagull to fly, his mother thought out a plan and took a piece of fish near him, but she did not go nearer and her plan worked.

Q9) How did the writer get out of the storm in the night to land safely?

The writer was flying his old Dakota aero plane when he saw the black clouds. He was lost in the storm. Suddenly, he saw a black aero plane by his side, which had no lights, on its wings. The pilot instructed the writer to follow as he had lost the way. He obeyed him like a child. He was very happy to follow him. After some time the pilot of the other plane started to land. The writer followed him blindly through the storm and came out of the clouds. He saw the lights of the runway and landed safely.

Q10) Why was the writer happy when he decided to fly in the night?

The writer was very happy when he decided to fly that night because he was going home to his family to enjoy his holiday. When he started, everything seemed to be perfect. The sky was clear, no clouds could be seen and the stars were shining. It all made it an easy task for the writer to fly that night over the sleeping countryside of Paris. His assumption of everything being in place made him happy.

4 FROM THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK

ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS

Q1. What makes writing in a diary a strange experience for Anne Frank?

Ans Writing in a diary was a strange experience for Anne Frank because she never had a diary and it was a gift on her 13th birthday. It seemed to her that nobody would be interesting later in her musings.

Q.2 Why does Anne want to keep a diary?

Ans Anne was an introvert and had no close friend to share her feeling with. She felt that paper has more patience than people.

Q.3 What tells you that Anne loved and grandmother?

OR

Anne Frank had a great attachment with her grandmother. Justify your answer.

Ans Anne's birthday was celebrated without her grandmother. Anne was not happy. Grandmother candle was lit along the rest. The birthday was a make up for others. This shows that Anne loved her grandmother.

Q.4 Why was Mr. Keesing annoyed with Anne? What did he ask her to do?

OR

How was Anne getting along with her teachers? Why was Mr. Keesing annoyed with her?

Ans Anne was getting along pretty well with all her teachers. But Mr. Keesing was annoyed with Anne because she talked too much in his period. As a punishment he asked her, write an essay on the topic 'Chatterbox'

Q.5 Why does Anne provide a brief sketch of her life?

Ans Anne provides a brief sketch of her life because she wanted to describe about her family, school and herself. By reading her diary, it could help the reader to develop some sort of connection with her and all the activities that were happening around her at that time.

Q.6 How did Anne justify her being a chatterbox in her essay/

OR

What does Anne write in her first essay?

Ans. As a punishment Mr. Keesing gave Anne a topic 'Chatterbox' to write an essay. He thought Anne would stop talking. But Anne justified her habit of talking in the essay. She wrote that talking is a natural trait in students. She explained that talking was an inherited trait in her as her mother also talked too much. Thus justified her habit of talking.

Q.7 What made Mr. Keesing allow Anne the talk in class?

Ans Mr. Keesing was trying to play a practical joke on Anne. He had given a funny topic to Anne to write an essay on it. She wrote it in a beautiful poem. It was about a mother duck, father swan with three baby ducklings that were killed by their father because they talked too much. Mr. Keesing took the joke the right way. He praised Anne. As a result he allowed Anne to talk in class.

Q.8 Anne says teachers are most unpredictable. Is Mr. Keesing unpredictable? How?

OR

Why did Anne Frank say that teachers are the most unpredictable creatures on earth?

Q.9 Why does Anne want to keep a diary?

Ans. Anne wants to keep a diary because she has no friend to talk and share her feeling with. And unfortunately this situation is not going to change. She thinks paper has more patience than people. Besides, there is no danger of a secret being disclosed as it is in the case of a friend.

What makes writing in a diary a strange experience for Anne Frank?

Ans. There are two reasons that make writing in a diary a strange experience for Anne Frank. First she has never written anything before. Second, neither she nor anyone else will be interested in the thoughts of a thirteen-year-old school girl.

Why does Anne think that paper has more patience than people?

Ans. A man who has no true friend to share his thoughts with finds one such friend in a diary. Anne too, has no true friend in whom she could confide her thoughts and feelings. She is reminded of the saying that paper has more patience than people. Thoughts and feelings are safely stored on paper, in a diary. A diary does not betray its writer. One's innermost thoughts, ideas and feelings remain safe and secret until one lets others to read his personal diary. It patiently keeps your thought to itself.

Highlight the importance of Anne Frank's diary?

Ans. Besides being a biographical sketch of Anne Frank, her diary is also an authentic record of racial killings, destruction caused by the War, an intimate account of the daily life under Nazi occupation, the hellish life at concentration camps and so on. Anne Frank (12 June 1929- February/March 1945), was a German-born Jewish girl, who wrote while in hiding with her family and four friends in Amsterdam during German occupation of the Netherlands in World War II.

Answers: 1 A 2 C 3 B 4 B 5 B 6 B 7 C 8 B 9 B 10 A

Q. 11 Who befriends him? Where does he take him?

Ans. A hack driver befriends him. He takes him almost all the places of the village in search of Lutkins. He takes him to Firtz's shop, to Fustaff's barber shop, to Gray's barber shop, poolroom and to the farm of Lutkins' mother, three miles away from the village.

Q. 12 Who is Lutkins?

Ans. The hack driver who introduces himself as Bill is none other than Lutkins himself. He is jolly fellow who befools the narrator.

Q. 13 Why do you think Lutkins' neighbours were anxious to meet the lawyer?

Ans. Lutkins had befooled the lawyer in the whole village. Almost all people had enjoyed this joke of Lutkins. These neighbours were the only people who had missed seeing the lawyer. So they were anxious to meet him.

Q14. Do you think the lawyer was gullible? How could he have avoided being taken for a ride?

Ans. I do think that the lawyer was gullible. Had he been worldly wise, he would have avoided being taken for a ride. He should not have trusted a stranger blindly. He could have been first to inquire about Lutkins not Bill.

Q15. What picture of New Mullion does the narrator present?

Ans. He says that the streets of the village were rivers of mud with rows of wooden shops. These shops were either painted a sour brown or bare of any paint.

Q16. Why was the narrator disappointed on reaching New Mullion?

Ans. The narrator had imagined New Mullion to be a simple and sweet village. But on reaching there, he found the place dirty one. This made him disappointed.

Q17. What must have been the narrator's feelings on knowing that the hack driver was Lutkins himself?

Ans. When the narrator knew that the hack driver was Lutkins himself, he must have felt shocked. He must have felt befooled in the hands of a person whom he trusted and befriended, he thought him simple and richly.

Q18. Do you think that Lutkins was right in befooling the lawyer and earning money by using unfair means? What precautions should one take to avoid a situation like one in which the lawyer was placed?

Ans. Lutkins was not right in befooling the lawyer and earning money by using unfair means. He was shrewd and showed no respect for law and order. If we are in the lawyer's place we should not trust things as they appear. We should be cautious and not trust blindly the other person's simple attitude. In fact we should carry out enquires ourselves to see its validity.

Q16. Why did the other children make fun of Bholi?

Ans. Bholi had no idea about school. She was made to sit down in a corner of the classroom. Several girls were also sitting on mats. The teacher asked her name but she stammered and could not speak. When the other girls heard her voice, they burst into laughter.

Q17. What major changes were visible in the village in a few years?

Ans. Several changes were visible in the village in a few years. The villages had become a town and the little primary school was converted into a high school. It had a cinema hall arranged under a tin shed and a cotton ginning mill. The village railway station had also become important. Now the mail train stopped there.

Q18. Why do Bholi's parents accept Bishamber's marriage proposal?

Ans. Bholi's parents accepted Bishamber's marriage proposal because they thought that Bholi might never get another marriage proposal. Also Bishamber was a well to do grocer and had not ask for dowry too.

Q.19. Draw a character sketch of Bholi?

Ans. Bholi's real name was Sulekha. She was a backward child as when she was only ten month old, she fell off the cot on her head and got her brain damaged. She was never given importance at home. The teacher changed her life and her personality. She made her outspoken, bold, confident, fearless and courageous. She became an intelligent girl who could tell what was right or wrong. She stopped stammering and recovered from mental illness.

Q.20.. What was the role of the school teacher in Bholi's life?

Ans. When Bholi came to school and met her teacher, she was very shy and innocent. Her brain was damaged so she stammered. The teacher changed her life and her personality. Her teacher encouraged to speak. She made her out spoken, bold, confident, fearless and courageous. She stopped stammering and recovered from mental illness .Thus her teacher played a very important role in change in the Bholi's life.

Jaipur city is now an overpopulated place. Its big markets, multi-storyed residential as well as office buildings, school and collages, hospitals and houses pose a gigantic challenge to the municipal administration to keep the city clean. The challenge has to be met at all costs. The need to keep the city clean can hardly be overemphasised. Public health has to be protected by keeping private places clean. The present efforts by Jaipur Municipal Corporation to keep the city clean must be boosted to meet the target.

My Dear Aunt

Thanks a lot for sending a dictionary as my birthday gift. I celebrated my birthday by lighting fifteen candle-sticks. All the friends and relatives were invited. Music, dance and sumptuous dishes were the attraction. The party was over at 11:00 p.m.

I received many gifts. But the dictionary, you sent is the best. Your precious gift is most useful for me because I can find meaning of difficult words and correct pronunciation.

Thanks, once again for this useful gift

With kind regards

Your loving nephew

Subject	Importance of computer Education
	Sir Now it is an age of computer. It has occupied an importance place in every field of our life. Providing computer education to children is now a necessity. Without computer literacy, the progress is likely to be very slow. Machinery saves our manual labour but computers save our mental labour. They store thoughts in such a way that they can be revived again. Thus our mind will have to make little efforts to store knowledge and facts. Until late computer have not reached all children. So some parents feel that many school children will be ignorant because of storage in the facilities of computers. Let the government, social organisations and reach individuals come forward to enable every child to have an access to computers. It will help the country to have its rapid progress. Thanking you Yours truly Rani Kumari

CHILD LABOUR

Child labour in India is a human right issue for the whole world. According to the statistics given by Indian government there are 20 million child labours in the country. The Government of India has tried to take some steps to lessen the problem of child labour in recent years by invoking a law that makes the employment of children below 14 illegal, except in family owned enterprises. However this law is rarely adhered to due to practical difficulties. In villages there is no low implementing mechanism and any corrective action for commercial enterprises violating these laws is almost absent.

SECTION – A
(Reading)

1. Read the following passage and answer the questions given below :

These days, it is not unusual to see people listening to music or using their electric gadgets while crossing busy roads or travelling on public transports, regardless of the risks involved. I have often wondered why they take such risks, is it because they want to exude a sense of independence or is it that they want to tell the world to stop bothering them? Or is it that they just want to show how cool they are? Whether it is a workman or an executive, earphones have become an inseparable part of our lives, sometimes even leading to tragicomic situations.

The other day, an electrician had come to our house to fix something. We told him in detail what needed to be done. But after he left, I found that the man had done almost nothing. It later turned out that he could not hear our directions clearly because he had an ear phone on hundreds of such earphones addicts commute by the Delhi Metro every day. While one should not be grudge anyone, their moments of privacy or their love for music, the fact is 'iPOD oblivion' can sometime be very dangerous.

Recently, I was travelling with my wife on the Delhi Metro. Since the train was approaching the last station, there weren't too many passengers. In our compartment, other than us, there were only two women sitting on the other side of the aisle. And then suddenly I spotted a duffel bag. When we tried to stop him, he looked at us. The bomb scare lasted for several minutes. Then suddenly, a youth emerged from nowhere and picked up the bag. When we tried to stop him, he looked at us, surprised. Then he took off his ear pieces, lifted the bag and told as that the bag belonged to him and that he was going to get off at the next station. We were stunned but recovered in time to ask him where he was all this while. His answer; he was in the compartment, leaning against the door totally immersed in the music. He had no clue about what was going on around him. When he got off, earplugs in his hand, we could hear strains of the song.

1. What is not an unusual to see these days ? 1 (A) listening to music (B) using electronic gadgets
(C) Both A & B (D) None
2. Who came to our house to fix something ? 1
(A) an electrician (B) a teacher
(C) a doctor (D) a boy

6. Write opposite word of the following from the passage:- 1 formerly -----

2. Read the following passage and answer the questions given below :

Frankness may be among the most overrated of virtues! And here's why, because unrestricted and unfiltered frankness is a recipe for breaking relationships, even the closest ones. Such frankness is understandable, acceptable and even 'cute' only in children under the age of five.

Thinking before one speaks and using restraint are hallmarks of growing maturity and, preparation for life. Learning to put a filter between thought and spoken Word (and, even more importantly, written word) is an important life skill. Think is a popular acronym for True, Helpful, Inspiring, Necessary and Kind. This would do wonderfully well as a filter in our minds.

It is good to speak what's true, but only along with the other attributes in the acronym, particularly the last one, Kindness. In the righteous glow of speaking what we see as the truth, we often to be kind. We blurt out 'truths' even when it is totally unhelpful and unnecessary to do so, let alone inspiring ! Too often, such truth - telling is destructive rather than noble. Only those who do not care about the consequences can afford the luxury of 'speaking their minds' whenever and wherever they please. when relationships are at stake, it is essential to choose the time, place and words appropriately when imparting unpleasant truths. And even then, Only when absolutely necessary and with the utmost kindness.

Speaking without forethought can be even more dangerous in other circumstances, for example, when someone has entrusted us with a secret. A sign of maturity is the ability to keep a secret. Very young children are incapable of understanding the concept of a secret. To them every piece of information is interesting, new and meant to be shared. As we grow older, we all learn how to keep a secret.

(i) Unfiltered frankness is a recipe for : 1 (A) breaking relationship (B) making relationship (C) increasing relationship (D) decreasing relationship

(ii) Hallmarks of growing maturity are : 1 (A) Thinking before one speaks (B) using restraint (C) Both A & B (D) none

(iii) Learning to put a filter between and spoken word is an important life skill. 1 (A) thought (B) writing (C) reading (D) listening

(C) reading (D) listening

12. Read the passage given below and answers given below :

Marriage gifts are meaningless without the sweet bread known as the bol, just as a party or a feast loses its charm without bread. Not enough can be said to show how important a baker can be for a village. The lady of the house must prepare sandwiches on the occasion of her daughter's engagement. Cakes and bolinhas are a must for Christmas as well as other festivals. Thus, the presence of the baker's furnace in the village is absolutely essential.

The baker or bread-seller of those days had a peculiar dress known as the Kabai. It was a single-piece long frock reaching down to the knee. In our childhood we saw bakers wearing a shirt and trousers which were shorter than full length ones and longer than half pants. Even today, anyone who wears a half pant which reaches just below the knees invites the comment that he is dressed like a pader.
